

Spring 2015 Downtown Bike Count

Tuesday, May 12th & Saturday, May 16th

On Tuesday, May 12nd and Saturday, May 16th the Chicago Department of Transportation (CDOT) conducted the 2015 Spring Downtown Bike Count with the help of 38 volunteers. The counts were held between 7 - 9 AM and 4 - 6 PM on Tuesday and 12 - 2 PM on Saturday.

The count boundaries surrounded the Central Business District along four screenlines; Chicago Ave., Canal St., Harrison St., and the Lakefront Trail.

Volunteers counted 9,383 people riding bikes, representing an increase of 28% compared to spring of 2014. 21% of bicyclists counted were riding Divvy bike share bikes, up from 16% a year ago. Volunteers counted people riding bikes at 19 locations on Tuesday and 14 locations on Saturday. In 2014, people riding bikes were counted at 20 and 25 locations, respectively.
